

Headstones in Gernonstown Cemetery

Sacred

to the memory of

Judith Josephine Moonan

who died on the 19th day of June 1887

and

Walter Moonan

Father of the above who died

23rd June 1900 aged 76 years

And also his wife

Marcella who died 7th Dec 1928 aged 83 years

This stone is on the Gernonstown Rd side of the church.

Moonans lived in Gernonstown House. They are not recorded in the 1901 or 1911 census

The last of the Moonans in Gernonstown died in the late 1920's. Presumably this was Marcella who died in 1928

-----
Erected

By Matthew Duff

Rochestown

In memory of his father

John

Who died 8th Feb 1870

And his beloved mother

Margaret

Who died 12th Oct 1901

Also buried here but not noted on the stone is

Matthew Duff

And Maggie Bennett who died early 1950's

She was a niece of the Duffs and lived with them as their housekeeper.

Duffs left the farm to Maggie Bennett who sold it to Philip McMahon's grandfather.

Maggie Bennett moved to live in the small lodge at Michael Mongey/Jenkinson's house.
(Curnihanstown House)

She was a sister of Joe Bennett who lived on the British Hills in Doherty's old house

This headstone is located inside the church

The 1911 census records John Duff (aged 67) living in Rochestown. Presumably John is also buried here. Maggie Bennett (niece) is also recorded in the census

This stone was erected by James Greay in the memory of

Father Philip Greay who died

Y May 16th 1761 aged 65 years

Also his wife Elezabeait ? (Elizabeth ?)who Died March 1767 aged 51 years

There are several generations of Grays also buried here

But no details inscribed on the stone

Matty Gray died late 1940's/early 1950's

Tommy Gray died 1951

Julia Gray died 1959 aged 91 years

Grays lived in Davidstown

The 1911 census records Catherine Gray living in Davidstown with sons James, Matthew and Thomas and daughter Julia. The 1901 census also records Matthew Gray husband of Catherine. It is likely that Catherine, her husband Matthew and son James are also buried here.

Springan family also buried inside the gate on the right

No headstone or grave marker visible

Christy Springan was last to be buried here in 1977

The 1911 census records Patrick and Maggie Springan living in Davidstown with their sons Christy and Patrick and daughters Cathleen Maggie and Bridget.

Patrick and Maggie would be buried here along with Patricks brother James who lived with them. No record of where Cathleen and Maggie were buried but Bridget was married in Dublin (Bridget O'Rourke) and is most likely buried in Dublin.

This stone is on the right hand side of the gate and is flat.

It could be the grave of Father Plunkett who was buried in Gernonstown cemetery in 1760. Hard to make out the inscription – needs more work

This is the only flat stone found and is facing opposite to all other stones

In addition there are 3 flat stones inside the church walls which may be headstones – cannot read them.

The baptismal font which was located inside the church seems to have been taken to the back of Rushwee church.

There are 4 large stone pieces with carvings on them dumped in the left hand corner of the cemetery inside the gate. Does anyone have any idea what they might be???

In addition we have recently discovered a headstone partially buried in the corner along the Gernonstown road/Slane side of the cemetery. We are not able to move it to see if we can read any inscription which may be on it.

Editor: My thanks to James Carolan for the above information
